Flexibility for Tomorrow's Health Records

— Seamlessly integrated dictation/transcription and certified EHR platform.

Introducing the only platform that lets you decide how to balance EHR-entered data elements with traditional narrative-driven content (through Natural Language Processing). Physicians review structured data output and traditional narrative reports as multiple pages of a single online document, fill in any missing required discrete data (highlighted) and/or edit their transcribed reports as necessary, then electronically sign as multiple pages of a single, integrated certified EHR report.
